Please help us keep in touch with you and meet State of Connecticut requirements. Connecticut Law requires political committees to use their best efforts to collect and report the name, mailing address, occupation and name of employer for each individual that contributes to political organizations.

Contributions from the following individuals and entities are prohibited: corporations, labor unions, national banks, government contractors, foreign nationals, or people under 18 years of age. Contributions to the Green Party of CT are not tax deductible. State law restricts individual contributions to political parties to $5,000 in one year.
